VinIX want to show off to the world

～ VinIX が誇る黒毛和牛の更なる可能性“自家熟成牛”～

The defining feature of VinIX is its in-house aging chamber.

Japanese Black Wagyu is traditionally regarded as a perfectly balanced beef that requires no aging. At VinIX, however, we intentionally age Wagyu to elevate its natural umami, aroma, and lingering depth of flavor to an even higher level.

By meticulously controlling temperature, humidity, and the condition of each cut, we carefully determine the optimal aging process for every piece of beef.

Through time and precise management, the meat develops a deeper richness and refined fragrance that can only be achieved through aging.

In pursuing the new value of aged Japanese Black Wagyu, VinIX presents a singular expression of Wagyu found nowhere else.

Selected Tajima-Line Virgin Wagyu

"Tamura Beef," awarded the Highest Excellence Award in the Female Cattle Division of the Japan Carcass Competition for three consecutive years, is one of the finest expressions of Japanese Black Wagyu. Raised exclusively from pure Tajima-line virgin heifers, Tamura Beef is celebrated for its delicate texture, refined sweetness of fat, and rich aroma. Traditionally, the exceptionally low melting point of its fat made thick-cut steak preparations extremely difficult, often requiring a compromise between preserving the richness of the fat or maintaining a moist and tender texture.

At VinIX, we overcome this challenge through advanced French cooking techniques and precise temperature control. This allows us to preserve the full flavor of the fat while achieving an exceptionally tender texture and elegant aroma.

If available, we highly recommend experiencing the rare and prized Chateaubriand cut.
